— Expands Capabilities for Both Hunt and Brean—

Hunt Capital Holdings, a leading real asset investment manager, throughout the United States, announced today that, through a subsidiary, it made a strategic investment into Brean Capital, LLC. This alliance will provide enhanced investment banking, fixed income sales and trading, securitization, and derivative capabilities for Hunt.

"Our strategic investment in Brean Capital enables us to retain and develop a strategic partnership within the broker dealer line of business," said Hunt CEO Chris Hunt. "We have been impressed with Brean's leadership team and look forward to working closer with them."

The investment will allow Brean to extend its breadth of coverage in asset classes where Hunt already has a solid footprint, including real estate and infrastructure. "Our comprehensive investment banking, trading, and sales platform provides outstanding service to a broad array of institutions, including those of varying size in the banking community.
