Hunt Companies Completes Construction of Honolulu Habitat for Humanity's Honolulu ReStore

El Paso, TX – (December 17, 2012) – Hunt Companies has completed construction on Honolulu Habitat for Humanity's store, Honolulu ReStore, a business that will sell new and gently used donated items at discounted prices. Honolulu ReStore held its grand opening on Oct. 27. "Hunt Companies is honored by the opportunity to work with an organization that does so much for low-income families in Hawai'i," said Bud Waters, executive vice president of Hunt Companies' construction services division. "Our hearts go out to Hawai'i's families who struggle to find a home, and we are happy to help build a business space for Honolulu ReStore, which will generate funds for Habitat for Humanity's important mission." "We extend a warm mahalo to all who helped to make Honolulu ReStore a reality," said Genie Brown, executive director of Honolulu Habitat for Humanity. "We are thrilled to open the brand new store, which will help us continue our work of creating thriving communities and strengthening relationships through the building process." Honolulu Habitat for Humanity is a local affiliate of Habitat for Humanity International and provides simple, affordable houses to those who lack adequate shelter. The nonprofit organization involves the homeowner family in the building process by requiring 500 "sweat equity" hours of participation in construction. Since its founding in 1988, Honolulu Habitat for Humanity has completed 67 homes for Hawai'i residents. A subsidiary of Honolulu Habitat for Humanity, Honolulu ReStore will sell donated household, commercial, construction and business items to the public at discounts of 50 percent or greater than the average retail price. All proceeds from the store go directly to Honolulu Habitat for Humanity.
