The project, which began in August 2016, will take a total of 18 months to complete putting final unit turnover in January 2018. The open floorplan three and four bedroom units include amenities such as: luxury vinyl plank flooring, solid surface countertops, front and rear covered lanais, ample storage, and energy efficient design achieving Energy Star Certification.

"We are very excited to have reached this critical milestone on Phase 6 of O'hana Family Housing," stated Doug Rogers, Vice President of Moss. "These new homes demonstrate our commitment to not only our service members and their families, but to Hawai'i as a whole. The project creates jobs and continues to put money back into the local economy, and we are happy that this sixth phase is only six months from completion."
